

OVERVIEW

The Ocean Health Index establishes reference points for achieving widely accepted socio-ecological goals and scores the oceans adjacent to 221 countries & territories and 15 high seas regions on how successfully they are achieved.

Evaluated globally and by country, these goals represent the wide range of benefits that a healthy ocean can provide; each country's overall score is the average of its respective goal scores. Select a goal below.

